SIMON JAMES

The Paperback Chair explores the amalgamation of steel and upholstery, presenting as a linear and relaxed lounge chair designed to work for both home and office. The powder-coated steel frame provides support alongside a moulded plywood back, creating a robust yet visually light appearance. The upholstered seat and back are made from a combination of foam and feather, giving superior soft comfort.

Generous in size, the attention to detail here is meticulous - from the complex connections between steel and upholstery, to the flexible shaped feet.

Made in New Zealand.
